Grand Opening of Early Learning Centers, April 17, 10 am at West Fresno Branch Library

The Fresno County Public Library will celebrate National Library Week by having a grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremony at the West Fresno Branch Library, 188 East California, Fresno, CA 93720, for three new Early Learning Centers. Ceremonies will begin at 10 am on Thursday, April 17, and refreshments will be served. The three new Early Learning Centers will open, or open soon, at the West Fresno Branch Library, Fig Garden Regional Library and Cedar-Clinton Branch Library. The Early Learning Centers have been made possible through the partnerships with, and generous donations from: Katey's Kids, a Sebastian Foundation, Robert Kolbert, Ch, FC, AEP, President of the Foundation for Fresno County Public Library, and an Early Learning with Families grant from the California State Library.
