Fresno County Public Library Extends All Branch Closure
Until May 4th Due to COVID-19

With President Trump's recent announcement that the Stay at Home order is being extended until the end of April, the Fresno County Public Library (FCPL) is extending the closure of all branches. The closure that has been in place will continue until Monday, May 4, 2020. The closure date may change depending on the development of the COVID-19 epidemic.

Currently, all in-person programs have been cancelled until further notice. However, the library is still extending all online and remote services. The online services include remote access to the Library's collection of educational and entertaining materials including eBooks, audiobooks, online magazines and newspapers, music streaming, movies and video streaming and more. Remote services include answering reference questions, resolving account issues, and issuing new library cards over the phone.

The following branches are available to answer phones from 9 am to 12 pm and 1pm to 5 pm, Monday through Friday only.

Betty Rodriguez Regional Library: (559) 600-9245
Clovis Regional Library: (559) 600-9531
